Life Skills for Hope Volunteers' Centre

Meet two wonderful recipients of Alternative Gifts in Zambia

Juliet and Mavis

Juliet and Mavis are members of the Life Skills for Hope Volunteers' Centre in Lusaka, Zambia. The centre was set up with TWAM sewing machines, knitting machines and computers. The centre has two aims.

Firstly to support guardians of orphans. Many children left orphaned if not taken in by their extended family are forced on to the streets and into a life of crime or prostitution. The centre offers families willing to take in children the opportunity to learn a skill such as tailoring or knitting so they can raise the income needed to support the orphans. Juliet and Mavis have learned tailoring for this purpose.

Secondly the centre runs five schools for orphans which are funded by the women selling the things they have made. This income raised entirely through the TWAM sewing and knitting machines supports all five schools. Wisdom who runs the centre tells us why the schools are so important. He says:

“A child whose parents have died can be threatened by teachers or relatives, who say ‘we will only support you if you give me sex.’ We give the children a different way to live and a way to protect themselves.”

Mavis says:

“I have five of my own children, but look after another five orphans. I walk around town selling the bags I have made, and the profits from this feeds, clothes and educates all my children. “

This is the amazing life changing impact of Gifts for the Journey as they create livelihoods and give hope to individuals, families and entire communities.

Gifts for the Journey

An amazing way to help one person and their family break free of poverty.

£25

A Sewing Machine

Everybody needs clothes, which makes tailoring the journey of choice for many seeking a way out of poverty. Wherever you go in Africa, from busy city street corners to quiet rural backwaters you will find a tailor with their sewing machine. The gift of a sewing machine will allow a newly trained tailor to work from their own home or market place and use the proceeds to keep a roof over their family's head, put food on the table and send their children to school.

£10

A Sewing Kit

A sewing kit is supplied with every sewing machine and includes everything the newly trained tailor needs to get their small business off the ground.

£35

A Knitting Machine

A skilled knitter can make an entire jumper in under an hour. The journey to employment for most knitters is to secure a contract from a local school to make children's knitted uniforms. Wool is plentiful so this is a stable, regular way to earn a living. A knitting machine will provide one family with a living and is a wonderful gift.

£8

A Hand Knitting Kit

Containing needles, wool, patterns and everything needed for hand knitting and sewing together jumpers. An essential kit for all knitters!

£35

A Computer Kit

The world runs on computers and Africa is no different. Young people dreaming of work in an office must be able to use a computer, but very few will have access to one. It is not unusual for schools to teach computing using pictures on the blackboard.

TWAM provides hundreds of charities and schools with the computers they need to take youngsters on the journey to employment.

It is a great way to support an entrepreneurial spirit!

A Scholar Pack

It's hard to believe, but it's all too common across Africa for schools to have no basic materials. How can children begin their journey out of poverty without educational tools? A Scholar Pack gives one child the stationery and equipment they need to learn. A great gift to help children take their first steps on their journey to a better education.

A box of School Books

Many of us remember our teachers telling us we would never amount to anything without a good education! For many years TWAM has set up libraries and provided key stage text books for schools and colleges across Africa. Your gift will provide a box of books for a school in Africa that will benefit hundreds of children.

Gifts for the journey: transforming lives one at a time

Meet three ambitious trainee carpenters from Zambia.

Vincent says:

"My father died this year, so I was having problems. My mother didn't have any money to support me. I had no work and nothing to do and was joining the men who are drinkers. Then Mr Shabula the trainer found me and said, 'Is this what you want to do with your life? You can come and join us and learn carpentry.'

I want to make my life better. I don't want my life to become bad and to become a thief. Now I tell others they must improve their lives. God has helped me and will help me more."

Emson says:

"The teacher told me about the course. I chose carpentry because it is a job I liked. Having a school certificate does not help at all in finding work. Schools' do not teach practical skills and where we live there are no office jobs.

My plan when I finish is that I will become a carpenter. This will be no challenge for me."

Tembo says:

"My friends in the carpentry workshop told me about the course. I am a school drop out, because my parents could not afford fees.

I want to do carpentry right now while I have no work, but I am saving up so I can go back to school. Then I want to study medicine. Carpentry will help me pay for my medical training to become a doctor."

£40

A Carpenter's Kit

Carpenters are always in high demand. They make the trusses to hold up the roof, the windows and doors to make the building weatherproof. Then they make the furniture that turns it into a home. Overall, a very comprehensive service! A carpenter's tool kit contains all the hand tools needed for one person to start a small business from scratch. Many of their tools will last a lifetime. The carpentry kit is our most popular tool kit.

A Carpentry Workshop Kit

The workshop kit may be used to equip the skills centre that trains the carpenters, or used to equip a workshop providing employment for several newly trained carpenters. Some of the workshops are started by churches and schools to provide funds to run the schools and local community projects. There are entire schools of over 500 pupils completely funded by the proceeds of items made in carpentry workshops. Therefore the gift of a workshop kit can have a huge impact on a community.

£35

A Mechanic's Kit

Motor mechanics is a great job for a young person but most potential employers do not provide the tools needed. However, for a young person starting out, finding the tools they need is hard enough, but paying for them is completely impossible.

The mechanic's tool kit comes in two boxes and provides the vast array of tools needed by a mechanic. Everything from spanners and wrenches to oil cans and tyre levers. A great gift of tools that will last a lifetime.

A Garage Workshop Kit

The garage workshop kit adds to the standard mechanic's kit the larger items required to equip a whole workshop. This large kit includes wheel ramps, axle stands, a battery charger and various tools required by a busy workshop with several mechanics.

£45

A Builders' Kit

A builders' kit is amazing! In the photo students are learning building skills by helping build the workshop that will eventually house their training room.

Builders' kits will then be used to equip the workshop and eventually be given out to the students when they qualify.

A truly amazing gift for an African charity and for the students starting their journey to community and personal transformation.

An Electricians' Kit

An electrician's kit provides all the tools needed to safely install and maintain electrical wiring and sockets. The kit contains specialist electrical screwdrivers and circuit testers. It also includes basic electrical fittings to get the newly trained electrician started in their new job.

A Plumbers' Kit

Plumbing is becoming ever more important across Africa as toilets and bathrooms become common place in the home. Thankfully, with good plumbing installation comes clean water and healthier families. Not only will this kit benefit the newly trained plumber but the health of every family who benefits from their work.

An Agricultural Kit

In rural communities it is still the norm for families to grow their own food. Good tools can make the difference between a bumper crop with food on the table, and a failed crop and starvation. The tools we might use on the allotment and digging the garden are the tools they use for tending their vegetable plots.

The agricultural kit includes a spade, fork, rake, hoe, cultivator and other tools needed to prepare the soil, sow the seeds and maintain the plants to produce a good crop. This kit will quite literally put food on the table.

A Ground-workers' Kit

The ground-workers kit adds to the agricultural kit, pick axes and the heavy duty tools needed to prepare uncultivated land. The kit can also be used for digging foundations and laying drains. A popular multi-purpose kit.
